Other Material Fund Changes:

Based on a recommendation of Scharf Investments, LLC (the “Adviser”), on March 20, 2025, the Board of Trustees of Advisors Series Trust (the “Board”) approved the reorganization of the Scharf Global Opportunity Fund with and into a newly-created exchange-traded fund, the Scharf Global Opportunity ETF. After the close of business on August 22, 2025, the reorganization of the Fund took place and began operation as an exchange-traded fund.

WHAT WERE THE FUND COSTS FOR THE PAST YEAR? (based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Fund Name	Costs of a $10,000 investment	Costs paid as a percentage of a $10,000 investment
Scharf Global Opportunity ETF	$61	0.58%

HOW DID THE FUND PERFORM LAST YEAR AND WHAT AFFECTED ITS PERFORMANCE?

We continue to emphasize quality, valuation discipline, and mitigate downside risk. The Fund underperformed its broad-based benchmark as speculation and concentration in the MSCI All Country World Index continued to dominate performance for the period. However, history shows that fundamentals eventually reassert themselves. When that rotation occurs — from speculation to profitability, and from momentum to value — we believe our strategy will be well positioned to deliver durable, long-term results.

We believe our focus on company fundamentals enables clients to maintain equity exposure confidently, even amid elevated market valuations. In our view, time in the market, not timing the market, is the foundation of lasting investment success. By investing in high-quality, low-risk businesses with predictable and growing earnings, we apply a disciplined and repeatable process that frequently uncovers overlooked opportunities. While today’s market may favor “story stocks,” we remain confident that, over the long run, earnings fundamentals will prevail.
